FOR TWELVE-CENT COTTON:

COUNTING PROFITS FROM SEED THE

STAPLE IS WORTH THAT NOW. Price of Cotton Seed Has Gone Up to $17 a Ton, and That Is Equal to an Addition of Two Cents a Pound on the Cotton-A Combine to Keep Down the Price of the Seed. NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 11 .- In the excitement throughout the South growing cut of the extraordinary rise in the price of cotton to 10 cents a pound the still greater rise in value of another of the Southern farmer's products, cottonseed, has been overlooked. If cotton seed be considered, it will be found that the ectton grower is not getting 10 cents a pound for his product, as is popularly supposed, but 12 cents. Cottonseed is now selling for $17 a ton in New Orleans, against $8.50 a ton at this time last year, and the price is going up. It is very difficult to get it at $17 a ton and the competition between the cottonseed oil mills has been so great that in places it has been forced up to $20 a ton. The mills have found it necessary to form a combine, or at least to reach an agreement not to pay over a certain price for the seed, and that price has been fixed at $17 a ton. An agreement to that effect has been reached in Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina on the ground that it is impos-sible to pay more without an actual loss of

The advance in the value of cottonseed oil The advance in the value of cottonseed oil and other products has not been in proportion with the increase in the cost of cottonseed and the mill men say that oil is selling for less a gaillon in New York than it can be manufactured for in the South with seed costing $17 a ton. The fact that the manufacturers of cottonseed products have had numerous conferences lately and that they are uniformly offering $17 a ton has naturally led to the conclusion that some agreement has been reached, although this is kept a secret for fear that the agreement may be in violation of the anti-trust and anti-combine laws of the Southern States. In Mississippi, however, the press openly declares that the mills have combined to regulate and depreciate the price of cotton seed and a demand has been se who have organized this trust to

In order to facilitate the movement of the seed and bring out more of it, the Mississippi Railroad Commission has just made a big cut in the maximum railroad rate for handling seed against which the railroads are protesting bitterly and which they will fight on the ground that it is not profitable to carry cotton good of the railroads are protesting by the railroads and the country of the railroads.

AMATEUR FIREMAN KILLED. Trolley Car Smashed Into It.

In the collision of a trolley car and fire truck at Newark on Wednesday night a young man. not a member of the Fire Department, was so badly injured that he died yesterday morning in St. James Hospital. He was Edward Hobbis, 23 years old, and he was 6 feet 5 inches tall. He lived at 210 Elm street, in the neighborhood of the truck house, and knew every member of the company. His ambition was to become a fireman and he spent much of his idle time around the truck house. When the alarm sounded on Wednesday evening he ran out of his house and sprang upon the truck as it left its quarters. Capt O'Brien said yesterday that he did not see him get on, being forward with Driver Hanke at the time. When collision came Hobbis was pinned between trolley car and the hook and ladder truck and his legs were badly crushed. James Don-nelly of the company was a few feet forward of Hobbis and was thrown upon his head. William McConnell, another member of the company, fell under the truck, while Tiller-man James Dolan was flung from his steering seat and fell heavily upon—sback. The truck was swerved aside and several ladders were smashed, but the apparatus did not unset. bbis's left leg was amputated as soon after reached the hospital as possible. Drs. dder. Devlin and Mitchell, who performed operation, found that he suffered severely

TO ASK YOUNG SCHARN TO TESTIFY. Coroner to Give the Young Man a Chance to Talk About His Sister's Murder. More evidence was taken yesterday at the inquest into the killing of Katherine Scharn in the flat at 674 Second avenue two months ago and some of it was very unfavorable to Fred Scharn, the murdered girl's brother, who is in the Tombs, a prisoner.

Doorman Delaney of the East Thirty-fifth street police station testified that young Scharn had told him at the station that he worked a half-day on the morning of the Saturday when his sister was murdered and that he got his wages. Henry T. Stoeser of 44 Beekman street, under whom Scharn said he worked said Scharn didn't work under him. Margaret Bird, with whom Kate Scharn went shopping, told him the girl said she was going uptown to keep an engagement at 7 o'clock on Saturday night. Louis Lincoln Eisenprice, whom the Scharn girl had promised to meet, swore that Kate had remarked once that if Fred did not go to work soon she wouldn't keep him. Eisenprice, who was arrested on suspicion after the murder, was formally discharged from custody.

An attempt was made to get Fireman James J. Butler of 304 East Thirty-second street who testified that from his rooms he could see into the Scharn flat say that he saw Fred Scharn in the flat just after 9 o'clock on the morning of the murder. Butler denied that he had seen Scharn there. told him the etrl said she was going uptown

A number of both classes were soon stretched out, when the upper-class-men, believing that the affair had gone far enough, interfered and suggested that five wrestling bouts be held. Quickly the champions of each class gathered. Among them were wileox, Mayble and Condit of the sophomore, and Eustis, Nash and Dawson of the freshmen class. Each class won two bouts, and the remaining one was much in doubt. The sophomores claimed a foul. The upper-class men present decided the affair a draw.

BRIDGE CONTRACTS LET

$2,411,000 TO THE PENNSYL-

VANIA STEEL COMPANY. It Will Build Both Approaches-New Jersey Steel and Iron Company's Bid, $2,400,000, a Cut From a First Bid of $3,321,000 Why Commission Didn't Divide the Work.

The East River Bridge Commission yesterday awarded the contract for constructing the approaches to the new bridge to the Pennsylvania Steel Company at the bid price of $2,411,000 for both approaches. The New Jersey Steel and Iron Company, which is the Cooper and Hewitt concern, bid $2,400,000 for doing the work, and by dividing the contract between the two companies $64,000 might?have been saved. The commission was of the opinion that the money saving did not warrant divid-

Three months ago, when bids were first received, the New Jersey concern bid $3,321,000 and the King Bridge Company $2,500,000. The bids were thrown out as excessive and because a combination of bidders was suspected. At that bidding a thunder shower delayed the messenger of the Pennsylvania Steel Company and its bid was filed fifteen minutes too

Treasurer Fairchild of the commission said yesterday that he supposed fault would be found because the higher bidder had now been selected. In explanation he said:

"The New Jersey company is building the bridge towers and will be ten months behind in getting them finished. It had to go outside its plant for material. Our steel expert was of the opinion that as the Pennsylvania company could produce all steel, including rivets, at its shops, a better and more even grave of material would result. By throwing out the first bids the commission has saved about $100,000 from the then lowest bid. We could have saved $64,000 by dividing the work between the two companies, but what the city nee is is the bridge and not so much the $64,000. We are satisfied that time and an evenness of material will be gained by the award we have made.

The award made, the contract now goes to the Comptroller for his approval. Sixteen months will be required to construct the Manhattan approach and fourteen months for the Brooklyn end. The only large contract yet to be awardest is for the flooring, including railways, walks and driveways of the bridge. The towers are expected to be complete in a month. because the higher bidder had now been se-

THE CORNER IN PORK. No Existence in the West That Sir Thomas

I have no intention of raising the price to an exorbitant figure. I am perfectly satisfied to make a fair profit out of the deal and I shall do all possible to avoid causing serious trouble to those who sold short. In fact, I let some go the other day in order to save a few threatened failures.

failures. In spite of the declaration made by SirThomas trade was steady on the Chicago Board of Trade to-day and October pork remained at $16. Only one lar e sale was made. There is no, doubt that pork is cornered but local speculators are not concerned over it. They say the trade is well evened up, and as long as that condition prevails they are satisfied.

November pork showed an inclination to rise in price. It went up to $11.40, a rise of 12% cents. It is believed to be only a possibility that it will reach the figures attained by October pork. The receipts of hogs to-day in Chicago were 27,000 head, with 24,000 head estimated for to-morrow. The agaregate of receipts at the principal Western packing places was 634,000 head, precisely the same number received the corresponding day of last year. The Price (arrent, made the weeks' packing in the West 410,000, against 370,000 head the year previous.

PINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

THURSDAY, Oct. 11. Although the transactions in stocks footed up about the same as yesterday the market reflected a greater degree of apathy. This apparently incongruous statement is explained by the fact that one stock, namely People's Gas, was exceptionally active and supplied nearly a quarter of the total transactions, and thus helped to make the total sales as large as those of yesterday. Throughout the remainder of the list the decrease in active speculative interest was pronounced. The movement in People's Gas was attended by reports that a settlement had been made in the Chicago gas rate war. Confirmation of these rumors could not be obtained in this city, and all the advices from Chicago that came to hand during business hours indicated that the fight is as bitter and aggressive as ever. Still, after a decline of a point in the early dealings to the lowest figures recently recorded for it, People's Gas Jumped up 4 points and closed 3% per cent higher than yesterday at the best price of the day. On the floor of the Exchange the move ment just described appeared to be chiefly a demonstration against the short interest in People's Gas, which has become very large because of the fight in which the company has become involved. The possibility that similar tactics may be employed against the short interest in other stocks caused a little covering in various issues that have been sold rather freely of late. Until the last hou the market was not only dull but it was inclined to sag. The incidents of the day having a bearing upon values were certainly not calculated to encourage operators for short ac count. The Bank of England, although it has suffered a large loss in reserve during the week, did not advance its minimum rate of discount, and although the movement of money from this centre to the interior continues upon a large scale, money on call was Am Bpf . 19 23 Vatoria 15 not more active than yesterday and the ruling rate was again 3 1/2 per cent.
